PREFACE.

The Publishers, on the completion of this the Fifth issue of KELLY'S LONDON MEDICAL DIRECTORY, again beg to thank those gentlemen who have so kindly assisted them by the careful revision and prompt return of the printed forms, and they also gratefully acknowledge the many expressions of opinion favourable to the work which they have received.

Every year the work grows. This is partly owing to the addition of new names, but is mainly due to the larger number of contributions to medical literature following each name, by which it is hoped that the Publication may serve not only as a useful book of reference but also as giving a succinct account of the literary work done by each Member of the Profession during the preceding year.

The publishers again earnestly invite the favour of a communication from any person who may detect errors, or who may dissent from the description or classification herein applied to any Institution, Office, or Individual.

The new Patent Adjustable Tendon will be found a great boon to wearers who have been inconvenienced by the stretching of the Tendons.
